

Joy

Logline:

Two families celebrate the joys and struggles of adoption and reflect on their journeys.

Summary:

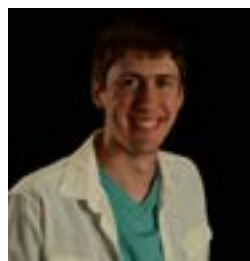

Joy is a documentary about international adoption. It follows the joys and struggles of two families who have adopted internationally. Curtis and Carrie Honeycutt recently adopted Miles from Ghana. The film follows their story and the transition of bringing Miles home. Michael and Maggie Perry are still in their adoption process. They have committed to adopting, Rhett, a little boy with Down syndrome from Bulgaria. The film follows their adoption process and the difficulty of waiting until they can bring him home. While adoption is difficult and a strenuous process, it is rewarding and beneficial for all involved. Adoption is truly a journey filled with difficulty and joy.
